To whom it may concern,

Last week, District 79's Pathways to Graduation Program hosted a Health and Wellness Fair at our Manhattan Hub site, inviting students ages 18-21 who are working toward their high school equivalency diploma to participate in various workshops related to mental, physical, and emotional health, including Healthy Relationships 101 with Michael Jasz.

Michael led a rich and engaging workshop on the importance of communication in establishing healthy relationships. Michael was a great facilitator, and the students were actively contributing to discussions and activities. They had fun too!

We hope to expand our partnership with The Relationship Foundation in the future.

Thank you kindly,

Sarah Cacicio
